

Emergency
COVID-19
Updates

9/1/20

Round Valley
Indian Tribes

Round Valley
Indian Health Center

Please STAY HOME if you are on quarantine or unless you are going out for essential needs in an effort to STOP the spread of this highly contagious virus.

The Round Valley Indian Health Center has consistently taken all of the necessary precautions to keep our health center virus free, especially from the deadly COVID-19 virus. However, at this time we have experienced an exposure to COVID-19 within the facility.

In order to follow our procedures, which includes performing a deep clean and testing of all personnel the medical center was closed on Monday, August 31st. To ensure our facility was cleaned properly a professional cleaning service was brought in to perform a deep clean and to sanitize the entire medical facility.

At this time, we have taken all of the necessary precautions to get our health center back in order and open for services. The health center continues to approach the COVID-19 virus with much caution due to the severity of the current pandemic.

We would like to thank the community for adhering to all of the precautions that we all have been accustomed to over the past 6-months. And, just a friendly reminder to all community members to protect your family especially our elders and children. Please continue to shelter in place, wash your hands, wear your masks, practice social distancing and avoid large crowds.

We realize this can be very cumbersome but our goal is to keep our community members safe and healthy from this deadly disease.

Thank You,
James Russ, Tribal President